

Middle East Movie Nights

With the Filozofická Fakulta

ALL WELCOME!

Film: Caramel (2007).

Introduced and Moderated by: Ebru Akcasu and Michal Láznicka (Turkologie, Ústav Blízkého východu a Afriky).

Summary: Is Caramel something sweet or is it also something that inflicts pain? A simple recipe with a few basic ingredients can create an edible treat and function as a depilatory. Caramel can therefore become a symbol of having (at times, unquestioningly) become accustomed to tolerating pain for the sake of conforming to society's expectations of how and what a woman ought to be. Come join us in exploring how Nadine Labaki's film interprets Caramel by following the struggles and pleasures of a complex set of female characters whose stories are connected through a Beirut beauty salon.

Event Details: Tuesday, 10 April 2018, 19:10 (P429).

Post-Movie Drinks and Discussion venue: Kolonial, Široká 25/6

Please R.S.V.P. for the post-movie discussion by emailing middleeastinprague@gmail.com by 6 April, so that we can make the reservation accordingly